

Art Is An Inner Motion

And to be in love with it must lead you to disown the way it has to start, and when it tugs you counter to your will you'll worry.

Yet soon the dance preempts the densest logic. Delight comes when you move through the life too quick for mere inertia quite long after the sea or grass or woman stops.